

Global Resource Initiative™

Global Resource Initiative™

A world of quality at down-to-earth prices

You can search the world for high-quality, cost-effective rubber components. Or you can avoid this hassle by relying on one convenient service to do it for you. Robinson Rubber Products has established relationships with qualified, respected partners around the globe. When you go through our GRI service, you're assured of impressive price savings without sacrificing the quality and performance you need.

Global reach, local service

GRI is strictly limited to companies that meet Robinson's exacting quality standards. We are unique in that we strengthen our relationships by meeting frequently with our alliance partners.

GRI is your assurance of:

- Qualified rubber companies from the Republic of (South) Korea to the People's Republic of China, from Taiwan to Brazil, from India to Italy.

The best of both worlds

Robinson provides expert engineering, material formulation and prototype design. Once specifications are set, we search our global network for the supplier best qualified to give you the components and pricing you need. Robinson maintains careful control to make sure you are completely satisfied.

Component types

- O-rings, metric o-rings and AS-568 o-rings
- Convoluted boots and bellows
- Vibration isolators and bushings
- Complex face blanks to blow molded medical components
- Packings, grommets, cushions, silicone extrusions or profiles
- Other custom-molded components

Material and quality capabilities

- From SBR to fluorosilicone to thermoplastics
- Including DIN, NSF, WRC and FDA-certified and compliant materials
- All GRI manufacturing partners are either ISO 9000, QS 9000, TS 16949, ISO 13485 or compliant with FDA cGMP regulations per 21 CFR Part 820

Global Resource Initiative™

Your number one outsource resource

Outsourcing is a way of life these days. We know how to do it. Whatever in the world you need, GRI can find it for you – at a competitive price, with the quality you demand and with the service you've come to expect from Robinson Rubber Products.
